All of this without the cost and hassle associated with most other contact center solutions.

Easy to manage and administer

Spend time managing your business and customers, not your contact center technology. ShoreTel Connect Contact Center is easily added to your Connect business communication system. The browser-based ShoreTel Connect Contact Center Director management interface provides streamlined administration for the entire solution.

Connect Contact Center features a next-gen approach to the agent interface. The contact center client, Connect Interaction Center, is a single hub for all agent activity and enables CSRs to easily manage multiple interactions simultaneously.

IVR and call flow scripting is simplified with a visual script editor. It's easy to change call routing in real-time in response to immediate needs.

Multi-channel routing at your fingertips

Leverage ShoreTel Connect Contact Center's inbound, outbound and blended routing capabilities per your business requirements. Optimized call routing options include advanced scheduling, skill based routing, agent priority, universal queuing and more. Calls, chat messages, emails, and faxes can be routed to agents based on a rich set of attributes. Web callbacks are also available.

Mobility is also built into the solution enabling agents and supervisors to work from anywhere without compromising the quality of service they deliver.

Business process integrations

When your contact center database and features are integrated with your CRM or other business process applications, you'll know more than simply "who" is calling—you'll have ready information that can tell you "why" they're calling. Salesforce®, MS Dynamics® and NetSuite® are just a few of the integrations available. Unleash the power of these applications by embedding native dialing, call detail reporting and contact information retrieval into your customer service workflow.

Comprehensive historical reporting

Review the data across your contact center with native reporting capabilities. Create flexible reports and schedule delivery options, without needing any third-party integrations or massive database programming. Measure the effectiveness of inbound and outbound calls, analyze customer activity, do performance monitoring - all from a single interface.

High availability & disaster recovery

The ShoreTel Connect architecture provides enterprise-grade reliability, redundancy and security built into the Connect Contact Center solution. Because a single solution powers both your business communications and contact center, you can leverage expertise from the entire organization to provide the best customer service without expensive customizations.
